Skin wrinkles are formed as a result of the continuous mechanical trauma to the skin, which makes the skin susceptible to the invasion of microorganisms and the accumulation of hyperpigmented skin. A long-term exposure to ultraviolet (UV) radiation induces hyperpigmentation, melanogenesis and skin wrinkle formation. To investigate the preventive effects of three terpenes (citral, geraniol, nerol) against UV-induced wrinkle formation in hairless mice. Skin wrinkle formation was induced by UV-B exposure in hairless mice for 6 weeks. The cumulative UV-induced wrinkle score was measured by the sum of the scores of the wrinkle length, depth, and number. The total thickness of the dermis and the collagen contents of the dermis were also measured. The content of epidermal melanin was measured with a microspectrophotometer. The levels of matrix metalloproteinase 1 (MMP-1) and collagen degrading proteases, such as MMP-2 and MMP-9, were evaluated by western blotting. In addition, the levels of tryptase, chymase and mast cells were measured with flow cytometry. The total thickness of the dermis and the collagen content of the dermis were significantly higher in the untreated control group than the control group that did not receive UV-B exposure, and was significantly lower in the group treated with terpenes. Compared with the control group, the cumulative UV-induced wrinkle score was significantly lower in the groups treated with the terpenes. The level of the epidermal melanin was significantly lower in the treated groups than the

Im also having a hard time with the esd.dll for winxpert.exe. I have the latest version.. Me myself I had all sorts of problems with piranesi but now its fixed. In windows 98 most of the programs had a bug in the esd.dll or winmm.dll or acpi.dll and it caused probs with emu sound and some other programs. In win98 windows you had to have these files in your c drive and sometimes that dll was somewhere else and it had conflicts. And I had another one with when I got win98 (which was bad) and I got xp and it got rid of the problems. So to get piranesi to work you need to have winxp, win98 and win2k sp3 for a clean install of piranesi. And if you have piranesi installed in wine than just run wine (in dosbox) install.exe piranesi.exe and run it. Sorry I missed your post. In win98 I get an error in winxpert.exe so I cant run it. I have to figure out how to get wine to work with esd.dll. I think its because I have winxpert.exe running on my source. Eric 11-27-2008, 09:38 AM Make sure you have latest.dll files for. Thats what it.. If you are having problems getting piranesi to work in wine than I suggest you make a fresh install. I had the same problems as you and Im finally figured out how to run it in XP. Just run piranesi.exe in dosbox. You need to be running XP in dosbox, dont install XP in dosbox. When running in dosbox it. Fortunat
